The Old West Festival and Donatos to Make Local Children's Dreams Come True

The Old West Festival is used to putting smiles on the faces of kids of all ages. This year, the Festival is teaming up with Donatos and A Kid Again to bring smiles to the faces of some extra special children.

A Kid Again, a non-profit charity, provides healing times of respite for children with life-threatening illness and their families by allowing them to participate in fun-filled group activities and adventures. These adventures foster laughter, joy, normalcy and supportive networking opportunities. A Kid Again strives to offer children, siblings and parents a cost-free occasion to enjoy quality time together and to create lasting memories.

These children and their families will be able to enjoy a cost-free day at the Old West Festival on Saturday, October 1st, taking in all there is to see and do in the permanent old west town. They can catch the gunfight at high noon, listen to the 1800's-style music, ride a horse or pony, train or covered wagon, take in the magic show or puppet show, even pan for gold.

Donatos Greater Cincinnati locations will be selling coupon booklets for the Old West Festival for $1 from Sept 1 through October 9. Booklets contains 4 free children admissions for 1 paying adult admission to the Old West Festival and one free individual one topping Donatos pizza coupons.

All proceeds from the coupon booklets will be donated to A Kid Again. Please visit www.oldwestfestival.com or www.akidagain.org for more information.
